GENERAL INFORMATION - FORM NO. OEC-2005-02

For assistance in completing this form or to download a blank statement, visit www.ethics.ohio.gov/fds.html

AM I REQUIRED TO FILE THIS FORM?

You must file this form if you served, at any time in 2005 or 2006, or are a candidate in 2006, for any of these positions:

- State, county, or city elected office
- Municipal school district board of education
- School district board of education or educational service center governing board in a district with a total student count of 12,000 or more
- Public college or university trustee
- Judge or magistrate
- Member, Board of Directors of a Sanitary District, composed in accordance with R.C. 6115.103, that includes two municipal corporations in two counties

You must file a statement reflecting financial information for each year that you served in, or are a candidate for, any of these positions.

CANDIDATES: This is a personal financial disclosure statement that must be filed with the Ohio Ethics Commission before the election, whether or not you spend any money on your campaign. This is not a campaign expenditure statement.

VILLAGE AND TOWNSHIP OFFICIALS: You are exempted from filing this statement, by law.

If you are a non-elected state official or employee (except a college or university trustee) or a school board employee, this is NOT the statement that you are required to file. The correct statement is the OEC-2005-01, which is available on the Ohio Ethics Commission's website.

WHY MUST I FILE?

Filing a statement is required by law. Disclosure is part of the responsibility of holding or seeking a position of public trust. The statement allows you to self-identify the potential for conflicts of interest between your public responsibilities and private pursuits that may require further caution and guidance. Disclosure also offers citizens the awareness of possible conflicts for officials and employees who serve them and reassurance that those possible conflicts are disclosed.

- No person is required to file more than one financial disclosure statement for any given calendar year.
- By law, a public agency or appointing authority must notify new employees or appointees of the requirement to file a statement.
- You must file a statement in the calendar year after you leave your public position, because the form reflects information for the previous year's service.

WHAT IS THE FILING DEADLINE?

Candidate in 2006	You must file no later than 30 days prior to the earliest election, including any primary election, in which you are a candidate. For example, a candidate in the May 2, 2006 primary election must file by April 3, 2006. A person becomes a candidate when he or she is certified by a board of elections for placement on the ballot of any primary, general, or special election. Prior to certification, an individual is not a candidate. Therefore, an incumbent who has not been certified for placement on a ballot by a board of elections must file a statement by April 17, 2006.
Write-in candidate in 2006	You must file no later than 20 days prior to the earliest election, including any primary election, in which you are a candidate. For example, a write-in candidate in the May 2, 2006 primary election must file by April 12, 2006.
Appointee in 2006 to a vacancy for an unexpired term of elected office	You must file within 15 days after you qualify for office. A person qualifies for office when he or she is sworn in.
Public college or university trustee appointed after February 15, 2006	You must file within 90 days of your appointment date. (If you were appointed between January 1 and February 15, 2006, your deadline is April 17, 2006.)
ALL OTHERS	MONDAY, APRIL 17, 2006

The Ohio Ethics Commission must receive the statement, or the statement must have a U.S. postmark, by the deadline. Faxed statements are not accepted.

WHAT ARE THE FILING FEES AND PENALTIES?

Each filer must pay a filing fee based on public position. Filing fees are listed on page 10. Checks should be made payable to "Ohio Ethics Commission." DO NOT SEND CASH.

There are penalties if you do not file your complete, factual statement by the applicable deadline.
Late filing fee: $10 for each day the statement is late ($250 maximum).
Any person who fails to file a statement or who files a false statement may be subject to criminal prosecution.

WHAT QUESTIONS MUST I ANSWER?

You are required to answer all of the questions that are listed next to the position for which you are filing, regardless of whether you are a candidate, an appointee, an employee, or an officeholder. If you omit the answer to any question that you are required to complete, the statement is incomplete under the law and will be returned to you for completion. If you hold more than one public position for which you are required to file a statement, and need assistance in determining which questions must be answered, please contact the Ohio Ethics Commission.

Remember to list your employment as a source of income. "Income" includes gross income for federal income tax purposes, and interest and dividends on all governmental securities. Income also includes sources of income received by another person for your use or benefit. If you are a beneficiary of a trust, and you or the trust received income in 2005, you must disclose the trust and sources of income to the trust. You are not required to disclose trust income if you are only a contingent or remainder beneficiary. (If you have questions as a beneficiary of a trust, contact the Ohio Ethics Commission.) You are not required to list the sources of income of your spouse, unless the income was received specifically for your use or benefit. You are not required to list the individual items of income to your business or profession except as described below. You are not required to disclose the amount of income you received from a particular source, including income from clients and patients, except in the following situations:

- (1) Income you received from a person or entity that is doing or seeking to do business with the public agency you serve (such as listed in example F below **); or
- (2) Income you received, or shared with a partner in your business or profession, that is attributable to services or goods provided to a client or customer who is a "legislative agent." Please see Revised Code 101.70 for the definition of "legislative agent," or contact the Joint Legislative Ethics Committee (JLEC).

The law provides limited exceptions to the disclosure of the names of clients or patients as required by both of these provisions. Please see Revised Code 102.02 or contact the Ohio Ethics Commission for more information.

To Whom It May Concern:

Attachment #7 lists my personal financial investments. These investments are directed by my accountant and my financial advisor without my knowledge or engagement, similar to a blind trust. The listing includes individual stocks held in my multi-million dollar portfolios. One such stock I have highlighted for your information is 83 shares of Diebold, Inc.

The stock was acquired after a change in personnel managing my account at Credit Suisse First Boston. The individuals who previously managed my account had received specific instructions from my accountant regarding stocks to be avoided. Those instructions were not followed by the new financial manager to whom I never spoke and with whom I never met. In January of 2005, she acquired 178 shares of this stock at $53.67 per share.

Subsequently, 95 shares were sold at a loss of $15.68 per share. This weekend, when reviewing the draft of my financial disclosure filing, I became aware of a Diebold stock position. On my accountant's instruction to the portfolio managers, this position was liquidated this morning at $41.26 per share, or a loss of $12.41 per share. While I was unaware of this stock in my portfolio, its mere presence may be viewed as a conflict and is therefore not acceptable.

My financial advisor follows general guidelines we have agreed to relative to the types of investments and percentages of allocation for my portfolios. Beyond this, the account is managed in a hands-off manner. I do not approve individual fund or stock selections and do not determine when to acquire and/or liquidate specific investment positions. I conduct an annual review of my holdings with my accountant in conjunction with the preparation of this filing.

My accounts now have been consolidated under management by Merrill Lynch in preparation for the establishment of a full blind trust arrangement. This restructuring should be completed in the next 30 to 60 days.

If you require additional information on this holding, please contact me. My accountant and financial advisor are also available for any questions the commission may have.

Sincerely,
