Dear <<ELECTED OFFICIALS NAME>>,

For the health of <<my community and my family I am/our community and our families we are>> writing to ask you to promise to protect public health from air pollution. Clean air saves lives, and we need to ensure clean air for our children and families in the future. For too long, polluters have been able to focus the debate on "overregulation" and false assertions that environmental protections hurt our economy.

Attached to this letter is a postcard with the Clean Air Promise that you can fill out and place in the mail or return directly to <<us/me>>. By signing the card you are making the promise, which says:

I promise to protect America's children and families from dangerous air pollution.
Because toxics and pollutants such as mercury, smog, carbon, and soot, cause thousands of hospital visits, asthma attacks, and even deaths,
I will support clean air policies and other protections that scientists and public health experts have recommended to the EPA to safeguard our air quality.

In 1970, Congress made a promise to future generations by passing the Clean Air Act to protect us from pollutants like smog, soot, carbon and mercury. It is up to you to keep that promise and to make your own promise to generations to come.

Sincerely,
